

TRANSNATIONAL MIGRATION, DIVERSITY, ETHNICITY, AND GENDER:
INTERSECTIONAL PERSPECTIVES ON MANAGEMENT OF LABOUR, POWER, AND CITIZENSHIP

This track invites papers interested in a range of scholarly debate on transnational migration, diversity, ethnicity, and gender. It will engage the delegates with new trends in migration in relation to global ethnic and gender transformations and the labour market. The track is particularly interested in different dimensions of intersectional analysis and its relevance to the study of management and organization of a diverse labour workforce.

We encourage contributions from scholars from a broad range of disciplines: organization studies, management, human resource management, psychology, gender studies, sociology, politics, and economics. We invite papers that investigate the interplay between diversity and migration at different levels of analysis such as individual, organizational and societal levels as well as studies that explore migration and diversity at more than one level. We welcome studies of single countries and comparative research.

Keywords: migration, transnationalism, ethnicity, gender, equality, intersectionality

Track Chairs

Dr Akram Al Ariss
Toulouse Business School, France
a.alariss@esc-toulouse.fr
0033627914137
International Human Resource Management

Tricia Cleland Silva, Doctoral Candidate (TRACK COORDINATOR)
Hanken School of Economics, Helsinki Finland
Tricia.Cleland@hanken.fi
+358403521499
Organisation and Management

Dr Deborah R. Litvin, Assistant Professor
Louis M. Ricciardi College of Business
Bridgewater State University, Massachusetts , USA
D.Litvin@bridgew.edu
+15085311453
Organisation and Management